Every year the doors of West High School swing open in the fall to greet new students and faculty. Again, in the spring, they are flung wide to bid farewell to graduating seniors. Amid this flow of people, there is one familiar face: that of Freddie the Falcon!

For the past decade, Freddie has witnessed the transformation of sophomores to juniors and, finally, to seniors. Each year he watches another group of "baby falcons" fly from the nest with diploma in hand.

Freddie has stood beside each of his "little falcons" as they have matured within the walls of West. He has seen them LEARNING.

Learning to Work

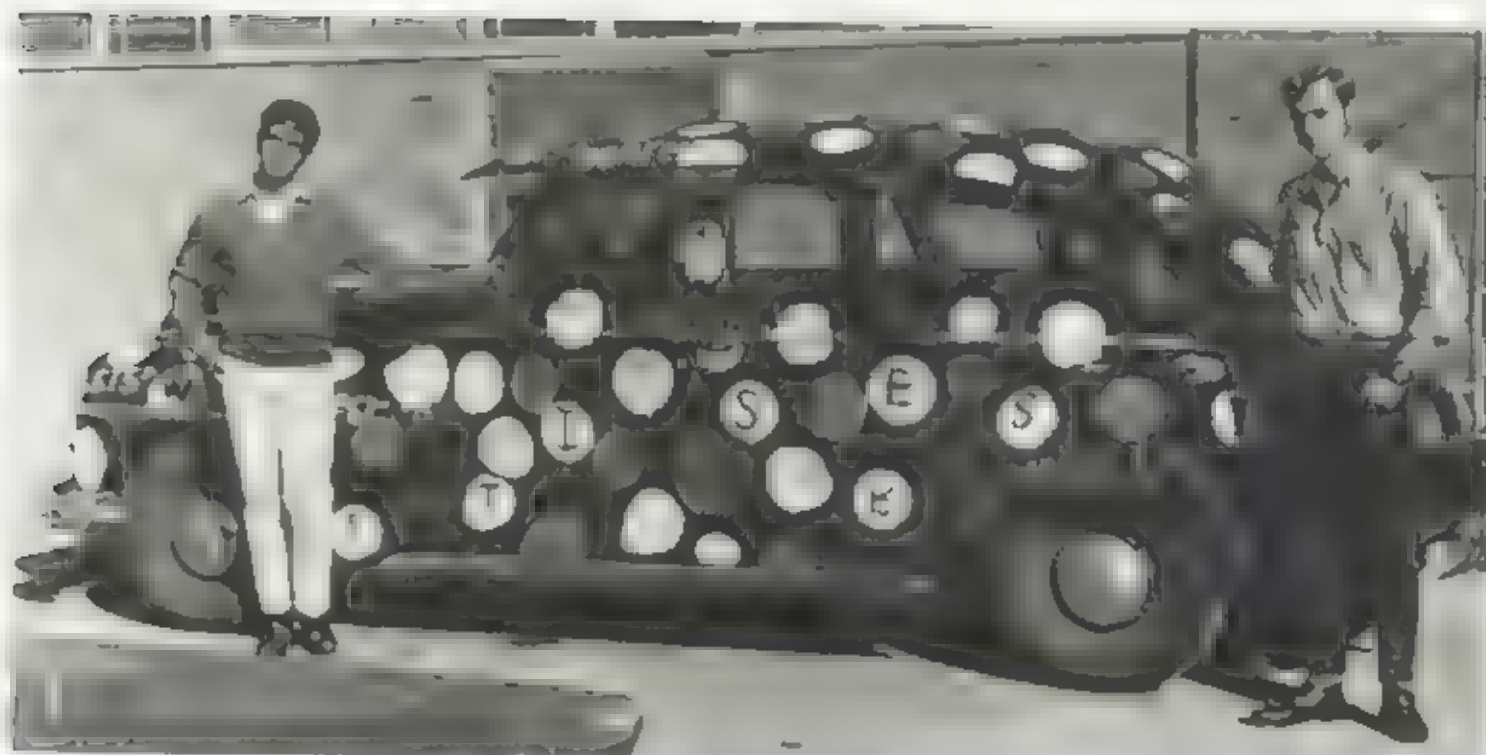

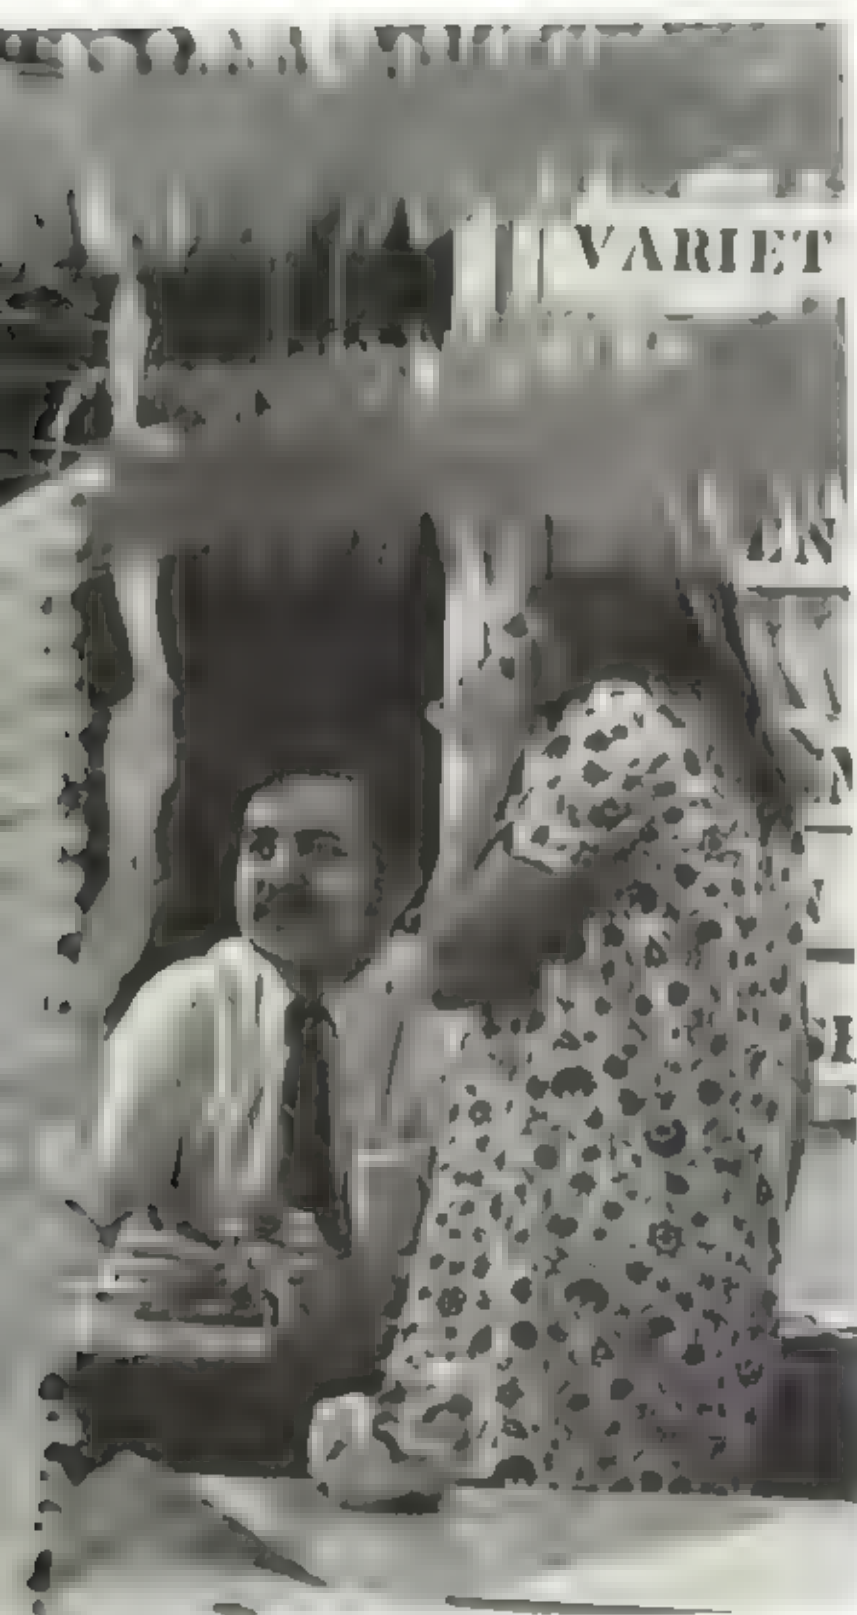

Learning to Play

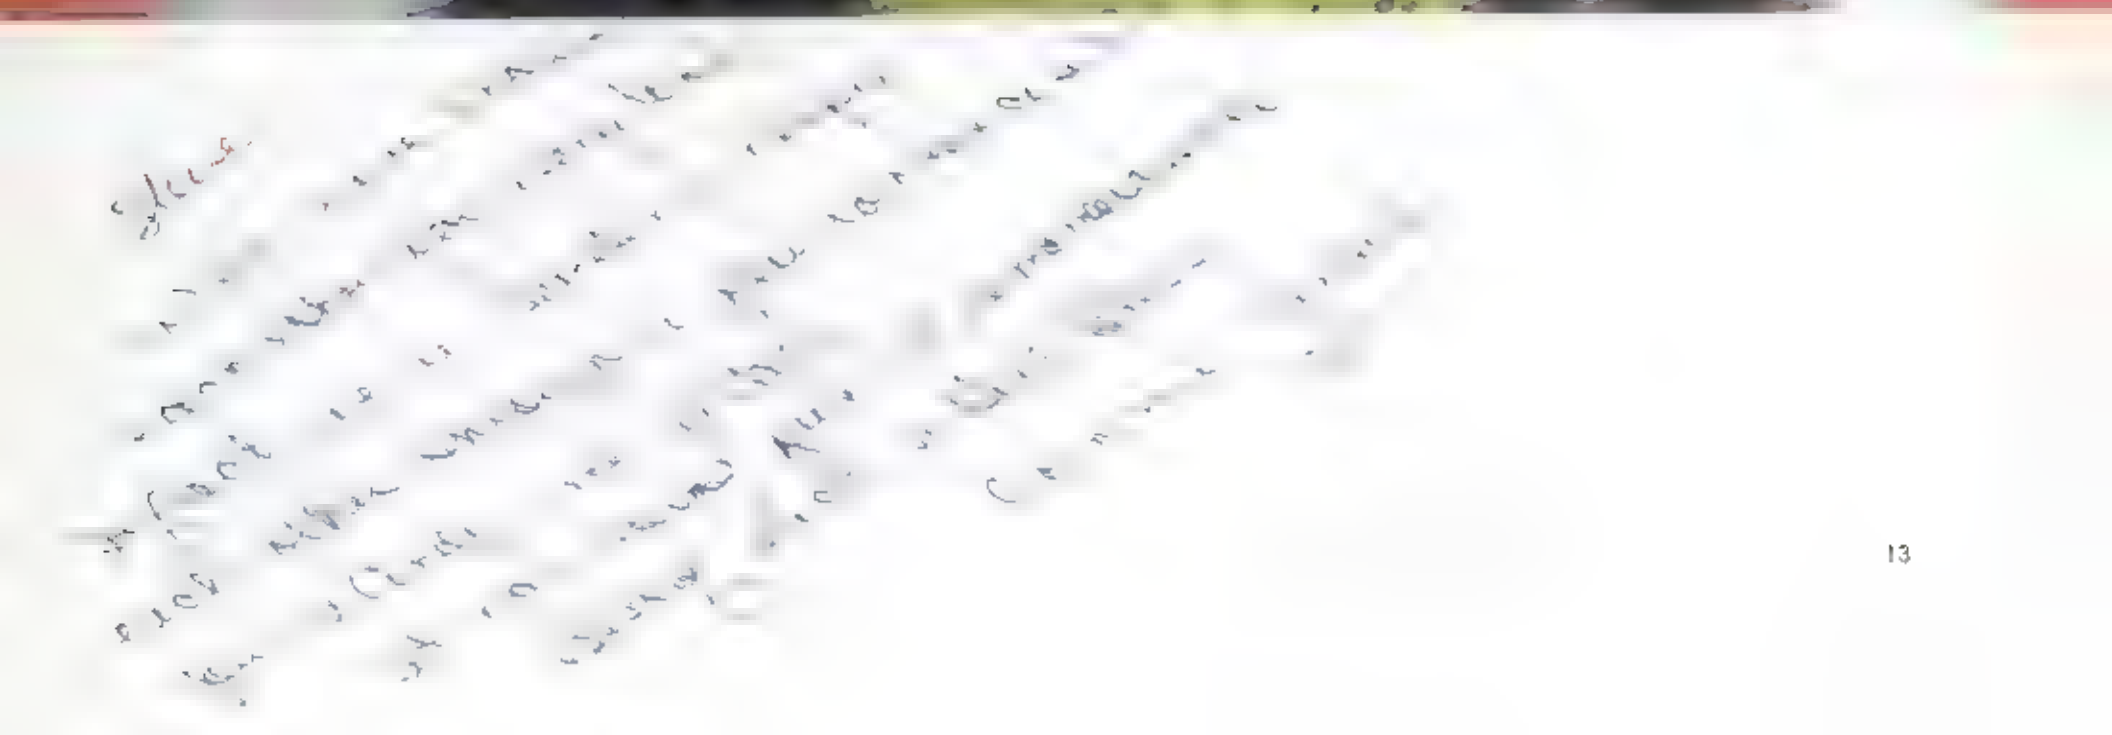

Learning to Love

Learning to Live

But, as each class passes through the doors of West High, winging on to a new life, Freddie does not merely wave good-bye. Freddie's spirit, the spirit of LEARNING, will follow all of the students through life, as they work, and play, and love, and live.

Be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars .

Snow? If you've lived in Iowa, snow is nothing new. But, to foreign student Maria Teresa Costa, snow is very new and different, and she attacks it with a fervor. And why not? In Brazilia, Brazil, the temperature barely falls below 70 degrees.

Maria, sponsored by St. John's Methodist Youth Exchange, was surprised by the formality and lack of responsibility in American students. "The younger teachers are called by their first names in my school. Also, the student must have more responsibility."

Opposing Maria's impression of the conservative American school was West's AFS foreign student, Lena Gatzona. The brown-eyed, brunette from Thessaloniki, Greece, was unused to the freedom she found in American schools. "In Greece, we have not so many rights. At school we have to be serious, very serious, because the teachers are not so friendly as here."

Besides carrying 14 school subjects, Lena received two hours of English instruction nightly. This accounts for her excellent mastery of the language, although an occasional piece of slang will catch her off guard.

Neither of these impressions were shared by Americans Abroad representative, Pam Protheroe, who spent the summer in Vitorio, Brazil. Pam felt a certain unity between people of all nations. "I knew before that though customs may vary, people are the same," she said, "but I proved to myself this summer. We are all brothers."

Maria will take home her impression of West's conservative atmosphere, and Lena's impression of the liberal system will travel back to Greece. But, the understanding Pam has gained will be shared by all who knew these foreign students.

Lena Gatzona and her 'sister', Georgia Brown, practice a duet.

Thellected with the first snowfall, foreign student Maria Costa from Brazil, hands a snowball at Pam Protheroe, WHS senior, who studied in Brazil.

Shared Impressions Create An Understanding

Sharing the Christmas spirit with her American family, Lena presents the Brews with a gift from Greece.

Lena finds a comfortable place to tackle this unpopular chore.

Discussing an assignment, Maria and Lena put the student lounge to use.

a Hoe Down

West sophomores launched their first social event—A Hillbilly Hoe Down—on Sept. 30 in the school cafeteria. A crowd of 500 sophs listened and danced to the sounds of The Liquid Sunshine and The Silver Laughter who engaged in a battle of the bands. A vote of those attending the function was taken, and the Liquid Sunshine was declared the winner, and received a cash prize for their performance. The room was gayly adorned with posters depicting various mountain-type scenes. Balloons decorated the ceiling, but during the course of the evening, most of them vanished. The best decorations, though, were the students themselves who, for the most part, came well in accordance with the theme. Dave Asmus, master of ceremonies, announced the winners of the costume contest. Vicki Ditto won first prize for the girls' individual most humorous and Gary Goodman was awarded this prize in the boys' division. Steve Kraklio and Sandy Fennelly won first place in the couple's most original category.

Counselors Offer Guidance to Students in Need

Senior Bob Hassel receives help from Mrs. Agesen

Fenwick: "Miss Help, may I talk to you for a minute?"

Miss Help: "Of course Fenwick. Come right into my office with its air conditioning, plush chairs and piped in music. Now what can I help you with?"

Fenwick: "Well, it's about my schedule. You see, I have girls' gym scheduled for fourth period, sewing for second period and family life education sixth period. I'm supposed to be taking electricity, welding and wood working."

Miss Help: "Yes. I can see you've got a problem all right. Why did you wait so long to come see me?"

Fenwick: "Well, Miss Help, after the first few periods of girls' gym, sewing and family life education, I decided I liked them. I came to see you to see if I could take them next semester too."

Miss Help: "I don't know Fenwick, we'll have to see."

Beatrice: "Well, I don't know why the President cares whether I can stay out of an alligator pit or not..."

Miss Fit: "That's beside the point. Now are you ready? Go! Hang on Beatrice! Don't let those alligators get you! Hang on, hang on! Very good. Now that wasn't too hard was it?"

Beatrice: "Whew, oh my arms. I think they're broken. Oh ow... well, what did I get Miss Fit?"

Miss Fit: "Uh, oh no! Beatrice I'm so sorry, but I forgot to start the stop watch. You'll have to do it again. Oh Beatrice, please don't cry."

The 1969 football team, despite a 1-8 record and placing in a tie for sixth place in the Quad-City Metropolitan Conference set five conference records

Since 1969 was the first year of the Metropolitan Conference the leader in any division set a record

As a team West excelled by far on offense, with the top two rushers in the conference—Louie Schnack and Dave Crawford. For the season, the team set a record for rushing with 1,394 yards

In its only victory of the season, the team set three conference records against Rock Island Allenman. The score in that encounter was 32-22, in favor of West. Louie Schnack set a record for the most carries in one game with 25, for a gain of 132 yards. Junior Dave Crawford also set a record for the most yards gained in one game with 185 in 22 carries. The team also set the record for the most yards rushing in one game with 391

West came close to winning games against Assumption and East Moline, with unsuccessful conversions in both games meaning the difference between victory and defeat

Schnack, a senior, was voted Most Valuable Player and was also the leading rusher in the conference. Schnack gained a record-setting 532 yards with a 6.1 yards per carry average. He was also honored with being named to the All-Metropolitan team, the Big Eastern Iowa All Star Team, and honorable mention in the All Iowa selections.

Elected captains of the team were Kim Cooper and Dave Walters

Juniors played a key role on this year's team with much of the line being juniors. Crawford was second in the conference behind Schnack, and will be returning next year

As Head Coach Gene Fisher pointed out, "They played good football." This style of football gave the spectator many exciting moments and these spectators could tell from the start of each game that West played good football

With the Future Well in Mind . . .

Typing practice exercises may be tedious work, but it is part of the basic training in Office Education

Every day at noon, approximately ninety selected seniors leave West to work in offices, stores, and workshops. Though they are leaving school, they continue their education, preparing for future vocations, and learning from actual on-the-job experiences in today's business world

Girls in Office Education spend their afternoons taking shorthand and typing. Trades and Industries offers training for boys in carpentry, electronics, and mechanics, and for girls in such fields as nurses' aides, dental assistants, and interior decorators. Students in DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) deal with salesmanship, working in stores

The opportunities provided by these programs give participating students the background to enter the business world immediately after graduation

Girls' Field Hockey and Fall Track Mile

The fall track team won the State Mile Team Race Meet and was runner-up in the State Cross Country Meet. In mile team race, senior Steve Petty was the runner-up in the state meet. The varsity and sophomore teams earned second place in both the Quad-City Conference Mile Team Meet and the Cross Country Meet.

The girls' field hockey team also won a state championship. West was never scored on in the state meet.

The girls' tennis team placed second in the Fall Quad-City Conference. The team had a dual meet record of 6-2.

In boys' tennis, West had a 2-4 record. One of these wins came over Central, 6-3. This was the first time that West has beaten Central in tennis.

In boys' golf, West placed fourth in the Quad-City Conference.

Falcon Days—A Week's Journey Through

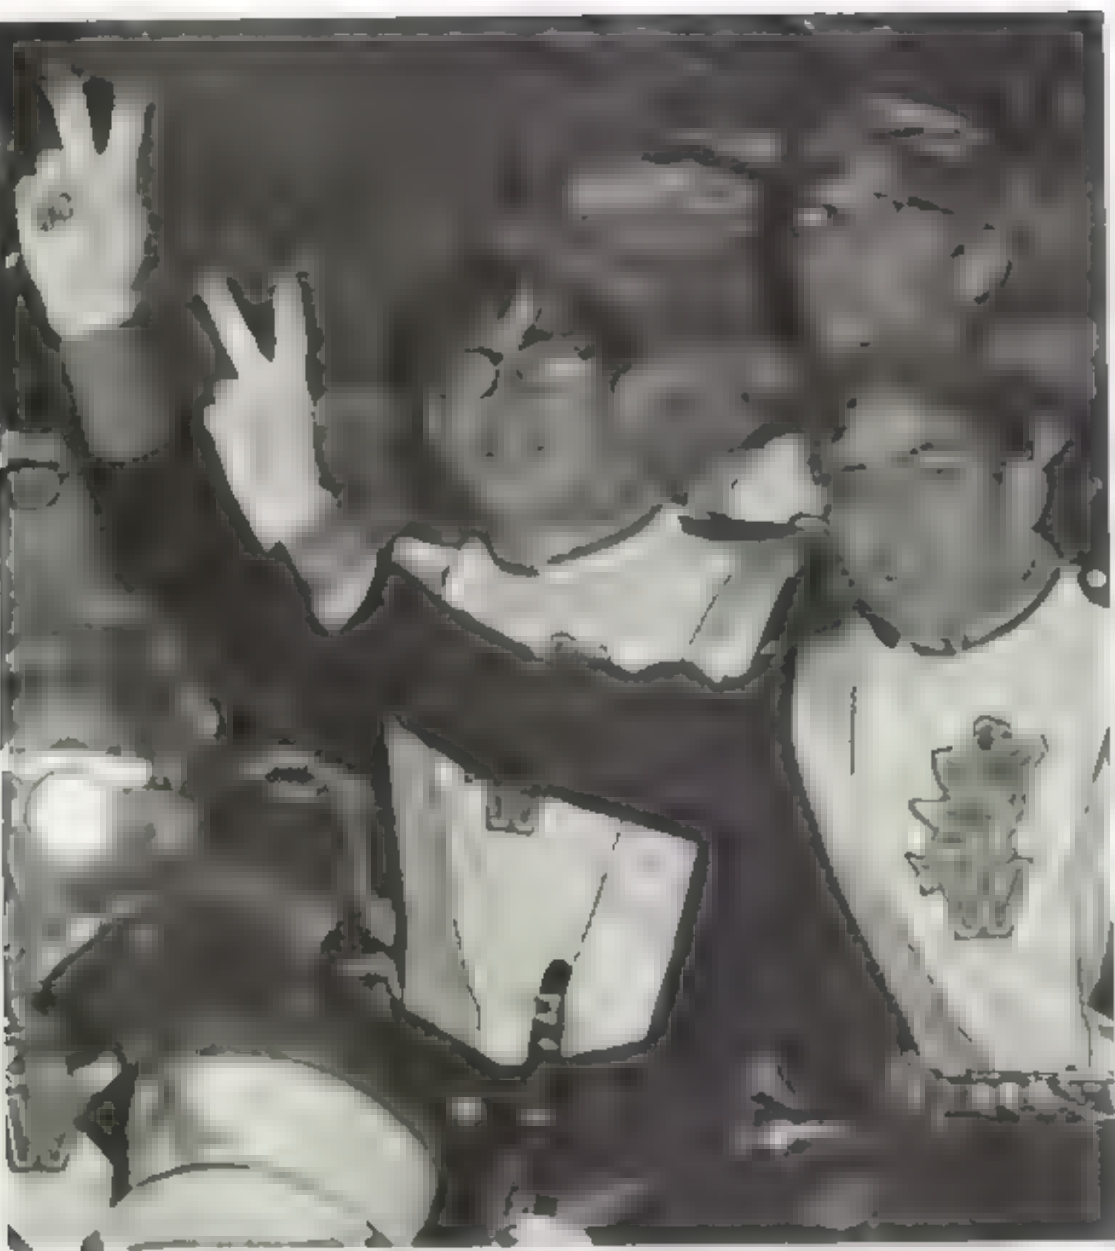

Dance decorations carry out the Safari '69 theme

Preparation was begun weeks in advance. Meetings were held, ideas were formed, procedure was discussed, and materials were purchased. Through careful planning and hard work, West High School launched itself on a successful Homecoming safari for the week of November 5-8.

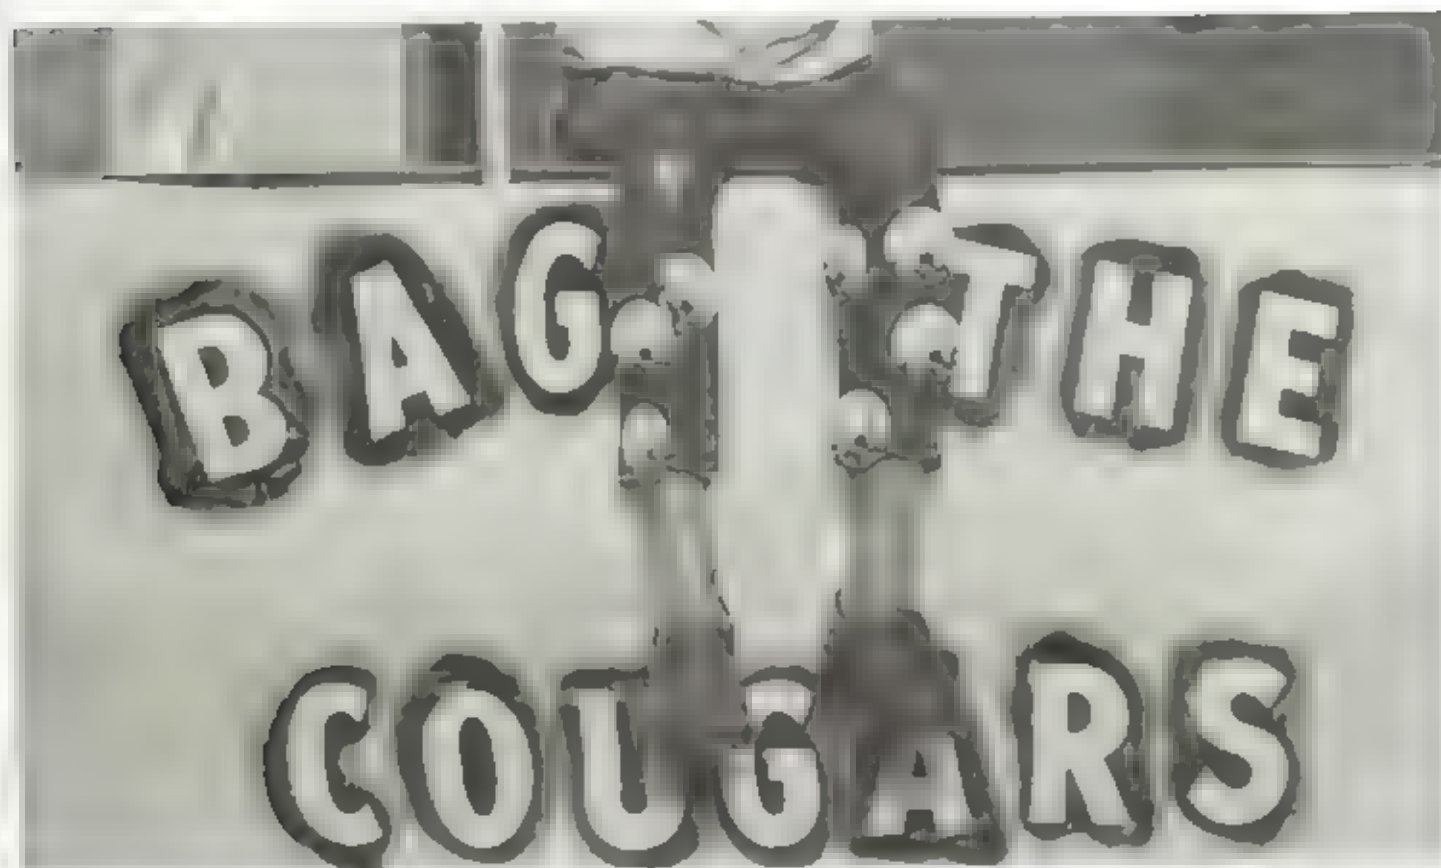

The first phase of Safari '69 was the announcement of the Homecoming candidates. The safari progressed to the presentation aud and then the coronation aud. Near the end of the trek came the pep aud and float review. That night the WHS Falcons met their heartless foe—the Cougars from Cedar Rapids Kennedy. Although they fought fearlessly, the Falcons met with stern resistance and were beaten 30-15 by the Cougars. Returning from their journey, the Falcons ended their Safari with a Homecoming Dance held from 8-11 in the WHS Cafeteria.

Safari '69

Band members show their enthusiasm by giving the peace sign during the Homecoming game.

An unidentified WHS student holds up the 1969 Homecoming banner.

So that all the WHS Falcons got a chance to help plan the safari, display competition between homerooms was held. During Homecoming week, the usually stately halls of West High were transformed into many different aspects of a safari. Following this theme any way they saw fit, 32 homerooms participated, with 11 of them winning awards

Homeroom 258 received the sweepstakes award, for the best all-around display, with the theme "Freddy Falcon Out to Bag a Cougar". First place winners were: most artistic, Homeroom 204; most humorous, Homeroom 258 and most original, Homeroom 222. Other homerooms receiving awards were Homerooms 105, 115, 119, 161, 203, 214, 221, and 262

One of the more humorous displays was the one constructed by Homeroom 223, "Our Monkey's on Their Back"

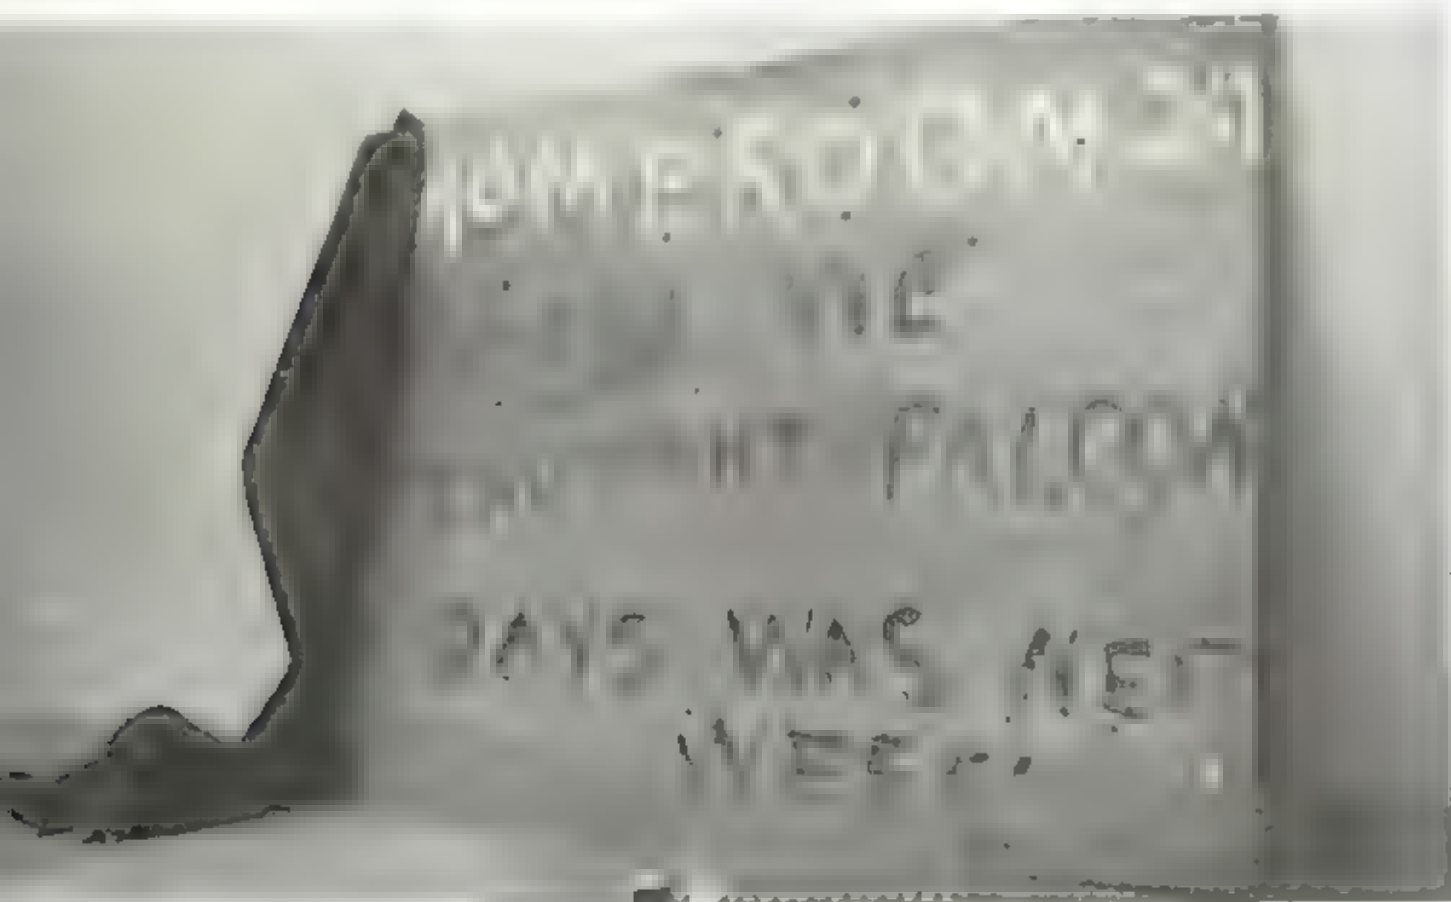

The after-effects of Homecoming week present an incongruous picture.

A simple, yet very effective display was the one entitled "Who do? We do"

Although it didn't win any prizes, Homeroom 267's display provided a chuckle for students and faculty

Dancing to the music of the Day Shift, WHS couples appear to be enjoying themselves at the Homecoming dance

With each club and organization forming their own safari, four clubs paraded away with the ten prizes awarded in the float competition. The sweepstakes prize was won by German Club for their float, "Safari Through the Black Forest." German Club also took first place in the categories of most artistic and most original. Second place prizes were awarded to Spanish Club and a Cappella.

As a fitting end to Homecoming activities, a dance was held in the cafeteria on Nov. 8. The returning safarians danced to the music of the Day Shift. Decorations, in keeping with the safari theme, were authentic African

Taking second place prize in the costumes category was Spanish Club with their float, "The Conquistadors Conquer"

Debby Dyer

Student Council President Tim Long presents a trophy to Queen Debby Dyer

Honorary head of Safari '69 was Debby Dyer. Elected by the student body as Queen of the Safari, Debby reigned fearlessly throughout the week. Her four right-hand ladies were attendants Marjie Orton, Ann Williams, Jackie Niemand, and Michelle Paulos. They were chosen from among 10 worthy candidates who included Colleen Corcoran, Sue Haase, Peg Morgan, Wendy Peters, Pam Protheroe, Becky Renihan, and Cathie Simpson.

Homecoming Queen candidates were: J. r. Cathie Simpson, Pam Prethezoe, Michelle Paulos, Jackie Niemand, Sae Haase, Colleen Corcoran, Debby Dyer, Peg Morgan, Marjie Orton, Wendy Peters, Becky Renihan, and Ann Williams

I really am glad I got to know you this year - you're one of the greatest guys at UHS!!
I'll never forget that seventh period before class wasn't Mrs. Erickson's boring class!
Always remember the fun we had and you ever need a reminder to say hi, just know

Kevin Andre (Georgia Brown) refuses to believe Faulkner is dead

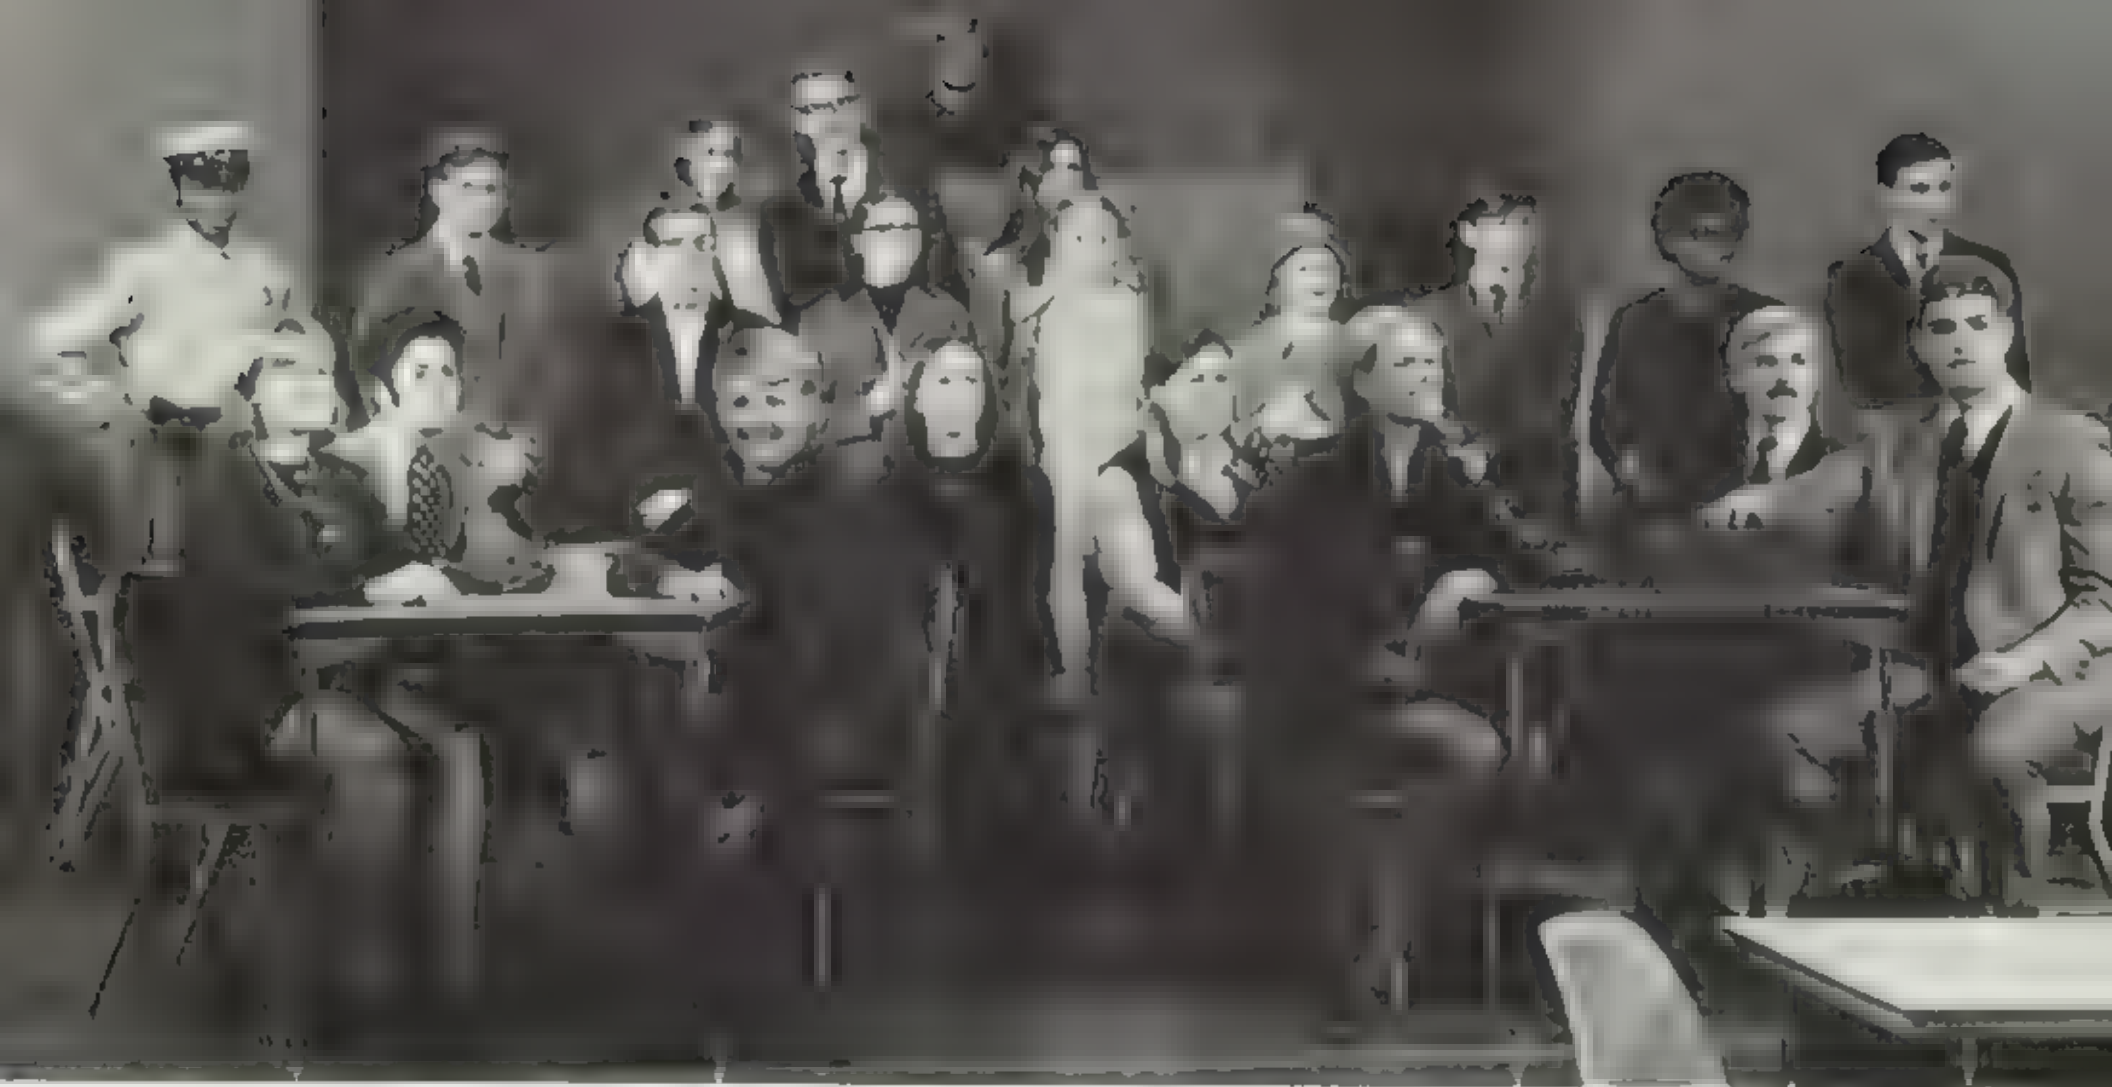

District Attorney Louis Steve Kohut argues for a cap

Defense Attorney (Jim Spencer) and District Attorney (Steve Kohn) clash as the trial reaches a climax.

And you claim your husband loved you?

"On the sixteenth of January—near midnight—the body of a man came hurtling through space, and crashed—a disfigured mass—at the foot of the Faulkner Building."

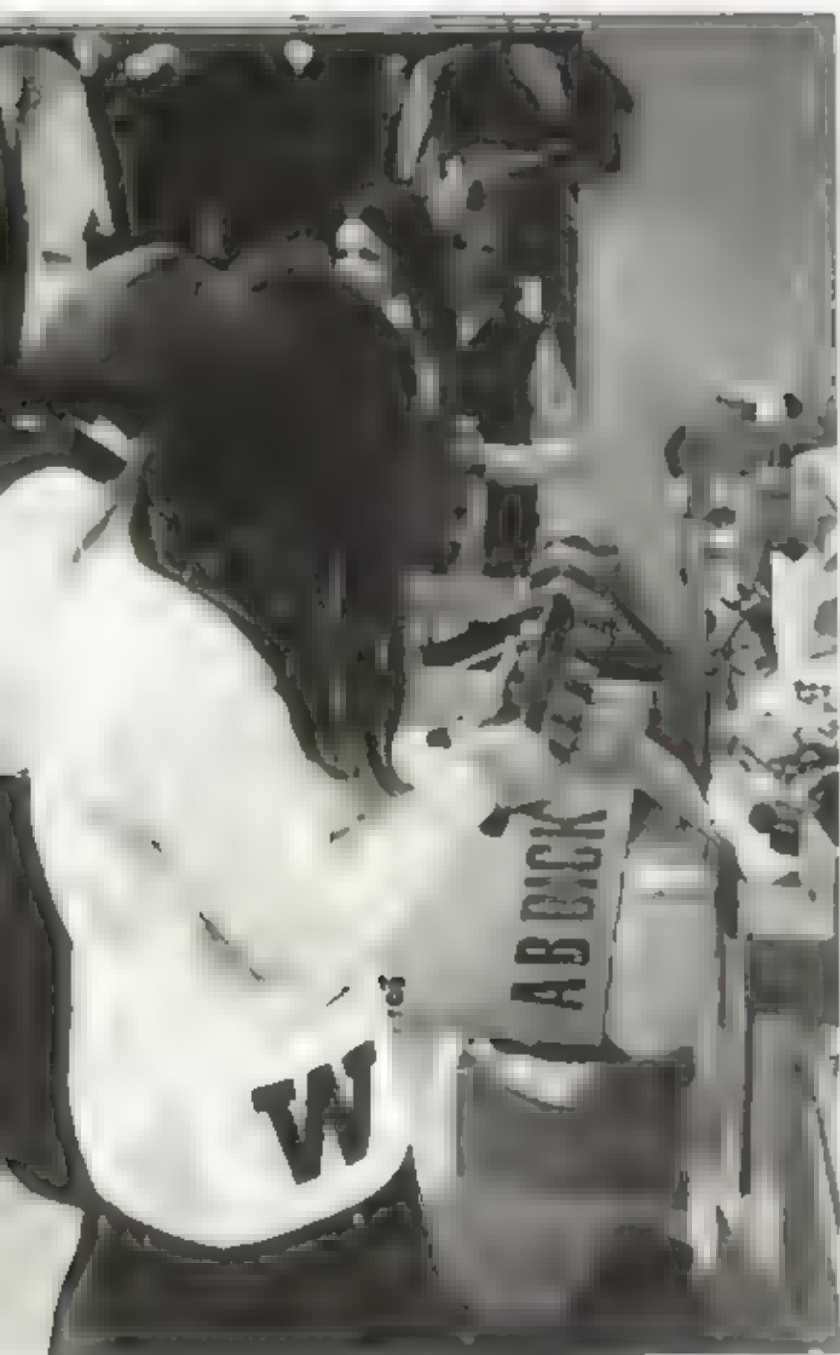

Was it suicide? Or is his former secretary, Karen Andre, a murderess?

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Holzworth, Miss Andre was tried for Bjorn Faulkner's murder on December 4th and 5th in the WHS cafeteria in the dramatic all-school play, The Night of January 16th.

Karen Andre, played by Georgia Brown, was defended by Jim Spencer, playing the young Defense Attorney Stevens, in the realistic courtroom drama. The District Attorney Flint, played by Steve Kohn, called his witnesses from their seats in the audience. A twelve-man jury, chosen from the audience, ended the play both nights, with her acquittal.

Groovy, fantastic, great, wild, different, all are adjectives that describe the art people, places, and things. The artistic talents of these people develop as they paint, draw, sketch, and whatever they do to create the fantastic, unexpected, and unusual results. Displayed in the Art Gallery, the showcases, and the art room is THEIR ART

—Their art is anything from a Medieval dinner party at Christmastime to a much more serious aspect of art—creation —Their art is expression through drawing, painting, sculpturing, and building

—Their art is what they create in their minds and with their hands

—Their art is being aware of what is going on around them and capturing this in their work

—Their art is what they do —Their art is THEM!

A mobile is created, and hung in the art room for all to enjoy

A Medieval party was the Christmas groove for the Art Club.

THIS IS THEIR ART!

Language Clubs—French, German, and Spanish

Members of German Club enthusiastically prepare their Falcon Days float for the Homecoming Aud

What do a sophomore girl taking first year German, a junior girl in third year French, and a senior boy taking sixth year Spanish have in common? The answer is: the opportunity to belong to one of the WHS language clubs.

For the more than 200 students belonging to either French, German, or Spanish Club, the activities that are held throughout the year provide the members of the clubs with numerous opportunities for enjoying social activities.

Spanish Club, with the largest number of members, sponsored activities such as the Taco Fiesta, Homecoming Float, Christmas Party, tobogganning party, International Tasting Party and hayrack ride.

German Club had a kick-off picnic, the Oktoberfest, Homecoming Float, Christmas Pizza Party, and the International Tasting Party.

French Club held a swimming party, hayrack ride, the International Tasting Party, and a picnic at the beginning of the year.

Whether French, German, or Spanish Club, a member of any of these gains valuable experience from the social contacts made and activities participated in through the patronage of these clubs.

"With this hold, it should be easy to just . . ."

A Service extends its far-reaching hand to touch many features of West. A solitary figure in the hall pauses to collect attendance slips; a click of a stop watch records a swimmer's time; a desired magazine is quickly located; and a crippled child laughs gaily at the antics of a West student—this is Service

If the SSO was non-existent, the offices would be unable to handle all of their responsibilities. A definite problem would occur if the librarians had to add the duties of the library assistants to their own. What would our swim meets be without swim guards? Much depends on the speed and accuracy with which a time is recorded. Finally, the Teens for Crippled Children would surely be missed if they discontinued working to make the handicapped children feel complete.

Service Clubs play an important role at West. Without them, many tasks remain undone. With them, not only do students learn how to receive, but how to give as well

Small-scale Politics Offer Experience in the

Although only on a small scale, class officers and student council members exemplify the great American dream: democracy. The WHS student council members, officers, and class officers meet to exercise the power, perhaps limited, but still vitally important, that gives them experience in making decisions which will satisfy a majority of students.

Democracy is found not only in student council meetings but also in political clubs at West. The Teen-Age Republicans and Teen Democrats offer an opportunity for students to support their political party, and introduce them to the workings of the American democratic system.

Two dramatics students pantomime a short scene

As the scene opens, we find two high school boys sitting in a drugstore booth, dressed in blue jeans and school shirts, sipping cokes

Joe: (Casually) Are you going to the play tonight?

Mike: (Quickly) Probably not. They're usually thrown together anyway. (Taking a generous sip of his coke) You know. Practice once or twice and memorize lines, that's just about all there is to it

Joe: (Hesitating) I'm not so sure. Jim Murphy was in one of those Thespian plays once, and he had to do a lot more than just memorize lines. Did you know that all the scenery has to be made by the set crew?

Mike: I thought they rented it. (Pausing to sip his coke) Anyway, so what? All you have to do is throw a couple of pieces of wood together and paint it

Joe: Besides set, there's costumes and properties and even lights to be considered before they put on a show

Mike: (Unbelieving) Oh yeah? I never thought they had to do all that kind of stuff

Joe: (Convincingly) Sure they do. Besides that, they have all that rehearsing to do. They rehearse practically every night and on Sundays, too.

Mike: (Thoughtfully) You don't say. Gee, they must work pretty hard. I'll call Sue and see what she says. Why don't you see if you can get hold of Peggy and maybe we could double Square dancing provided hilarious entertainment as students turned out in blue jeans and checkered shirts during Rangler Rec held in October.

December's Holly-day with Mom involved a fashion show and tea presented by the GRA members.

GRAnd Gala, GRA'S biggest event of the year, was held on January 31. Hours of hard work produced artistic decorations that expanded the theme, "A Little Bit of Heaven." Senior Vern Hill was chosen as 1969-1970 GRAnd Gala King with attendants Blaine Koch, C. J. Schroeder, Rick Flynn and Al Shaw.

GRA's next major event was held on March 10. It was Good Will Day which involved three groups of girls. The first group went to an orphanage, the second group to a day-care center and the third group to a rest home.

During April, the Junior High Splash-in was held. This event familiarized incoming students for next year at West.

The last event of the year was the GRA Banquet in May. This banquet marked the end of formal GRA events for the year. Various members of GRA were awarded for accomplishments throughout the year.

Officers this year were Sue Haase, president; Phyl Vogt, vice-president; Jean Jeffries, secretary; Becky Renihan, treasurer; and Pat Rudbeck, program director.

Though fate seemed to be against them, the WHS grapplers fought back vacancies in the line up and disease. Mononucleosis was popular this year as two wrestlers contracted the sickness. One remained out for the season while the other, Fred Penrod, bounced back and went on to take the state championship at 175 pounds

Along with Penrod, John Midey, Jim Schmidt, and Tom Bribriesco also traveled to state. Bribriesco came out runner-up in the heavy weight division by a decision in the final match. Penrod had the honor of being the only wrestler out of the entire state to go through the finals and pin each opponent

Do You Remember Gold

'Do I hear $3.00? She's worth every penny of it!'

Do you remember a girl in the cafeteria, lapping milk from a saucer? Do you remember the boy in the court, beating on his chest, and giving a Tarzan cry? Do you remember the girl walking on her knees down the hall? Do you remember a teacher dressed like Mary Poppins? Do you remember the "Uglies" roaming the halls to collect money in paper cups?

These were some of the happenings of Foreign Student Week. Under the theme of "Gold Rush Days", a week was set aside for raising money to sponsor an AFS foreign student for next year, and to send a WHS student abroad for the summer. Included in the Gold Rush Days' activities were a student slave auction, a special aud which was highlighted by the sale of two teachers, and an "Ugly" contest.

Take a look at these pictures. Now, do you remember?

Mud, Cold, Step, Step, Step, Now begin the West High Rouser Step, Step, Mud, Water, Cold! Old dirt-caked shoes and carelessly slung coats pile up during the fall in the confines of the band room's back storeroom. The owners? The West High School Marching Band. Early morning rehearsals whip a half-time show into shape in about a week's time. To compare the orderliness of the band on the field to the chaos of the aftermath is a wonder that will never cease.

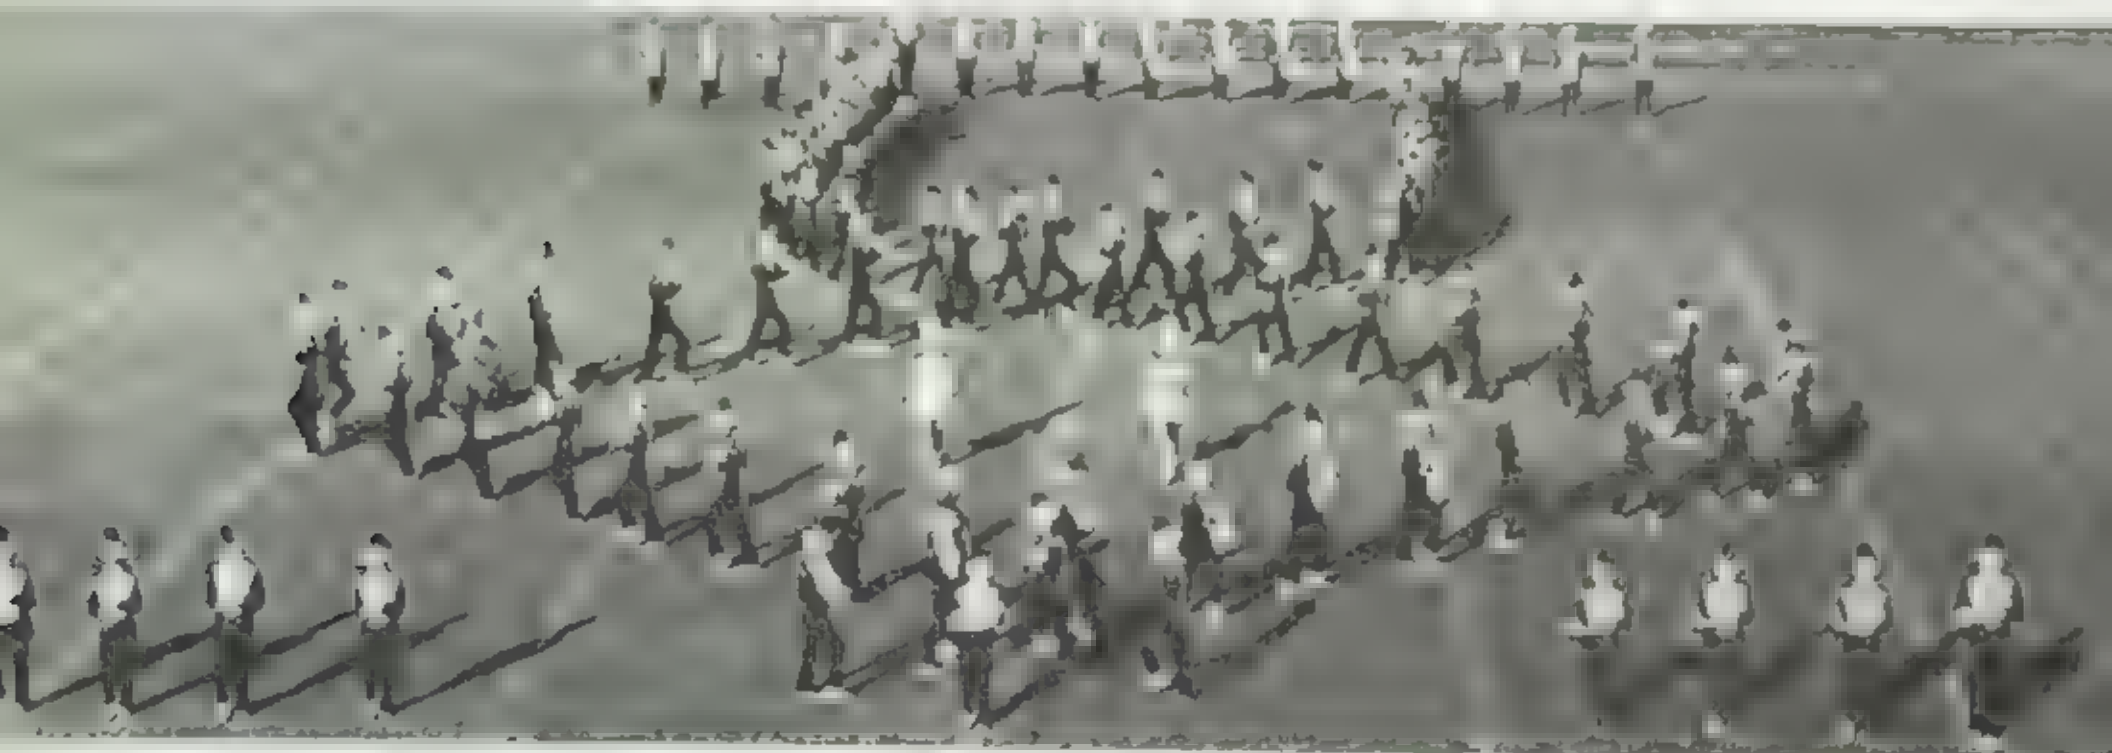

Des Moines, Yankee Doodle, Stars and Stripes Forever, Concerts. Usually, the concert band doesn't start until after the last home football game, and about one or two weeks before the "Pops Concert", but this year the concert band had an unusual request. Jack Hudson, president of the Iowa State Education Association, invited the band to play a concert for the opening ceremonies of the ISEA convention, October 23. The band presented a half-hour patriotic concert, narrated by Bruno Olson.

Practice, Practice, Don't be scared, You made it!, Practice, Practice. All-state Music Festival auditions were held this fall and fifteen WHS students were selected to participate in the festival in Des Moines during the Thanksgiving vacation. Guest conductors rehearsed the All-state Band, Orchestra, and Chorus all day Friday and Saturday, and directed a concert Saturday night.

Glory to God on High, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah. Each year the West and Central music departments combine to present their Christmas concert. The traditional Christmas music was highlighted with excerpts from Handel's "Messiah".

Rehearsals, Rehearsals, Rehearsals, Lights, Music, "We're on!" The big production of the music department is the annual Variety-Minstrel Show, this year entitled "TENZADECADE". The polished evening performances are the result of many hours of individual practice, group effort, and patience. Tension and alertness are essential for a lively show, and a sigh of relief is breathed when the show is ended and has run smoothly. This show is an experience for all, and the sights and sounds will rest the performer's memory until next year when the ultimate goal is to "do better than last year".

Early morning, Busses, Ottumwa, Rehearsals, Concert. The last important event of the musical year was the Tri-City Music Festival, held in Ottumwa on May 16. Davenport, Burlington, and Ottumwa High Schools all took part in the festival. Each band, orchestra, and chorus played a number in the afternoon, and received constructive criticism from their conductor. An afternoon rehearsal of the combined band, orchestra and chorus of all schools followed, and a concert was presented that night.

Food Connoisseurs Enjoy Themselves at ITP

Accompanied by exclamations such as "What is this?" "Those aren't really snails, are they?", or "Try that black gunk, it's really good", the members of the French, German and Spanish Clubs passed through the food lines at the ITP

The annual International Tasting party was held on March 18. Admission to the party was a dish of food, whether it be German Potato Salad, French Bread or Spanish Flan Cake

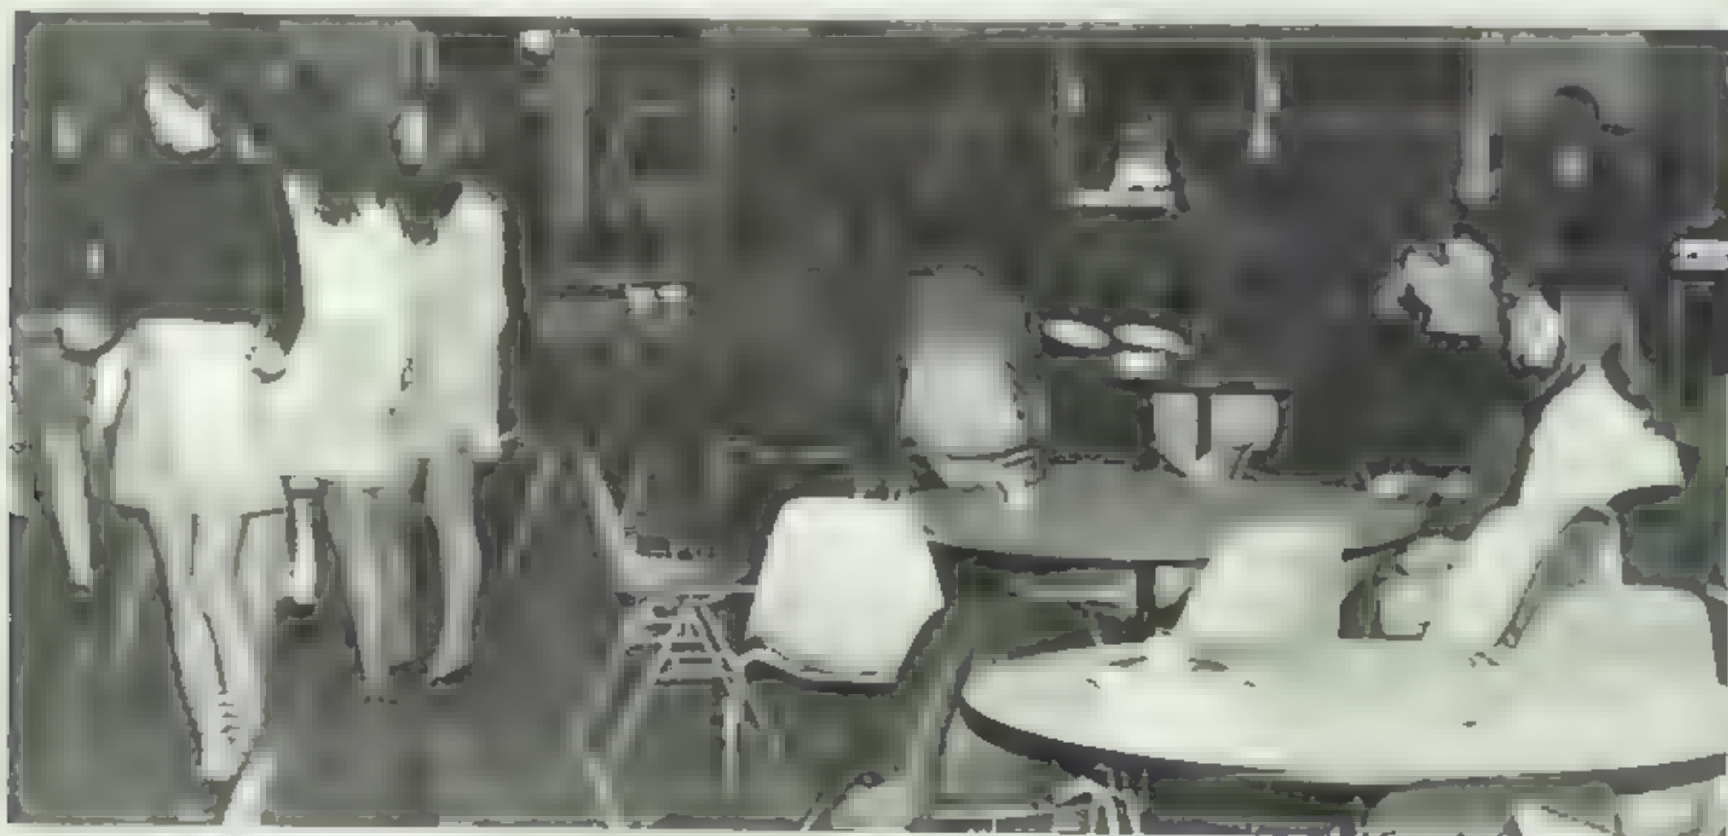

To start out the events, members of the various clubs played volleyball until the food was ready to be served

Toward the end of the meal, German Club provided music with an Oom-Pah Band comprised of German students

After everyone had eaten, tables were cleaned away and students danced to music provided by a combo hired for the occasion

Six seniors tackle the task of cleaning the tables

After the eating was over, students danced to the combo's pulsating sounds

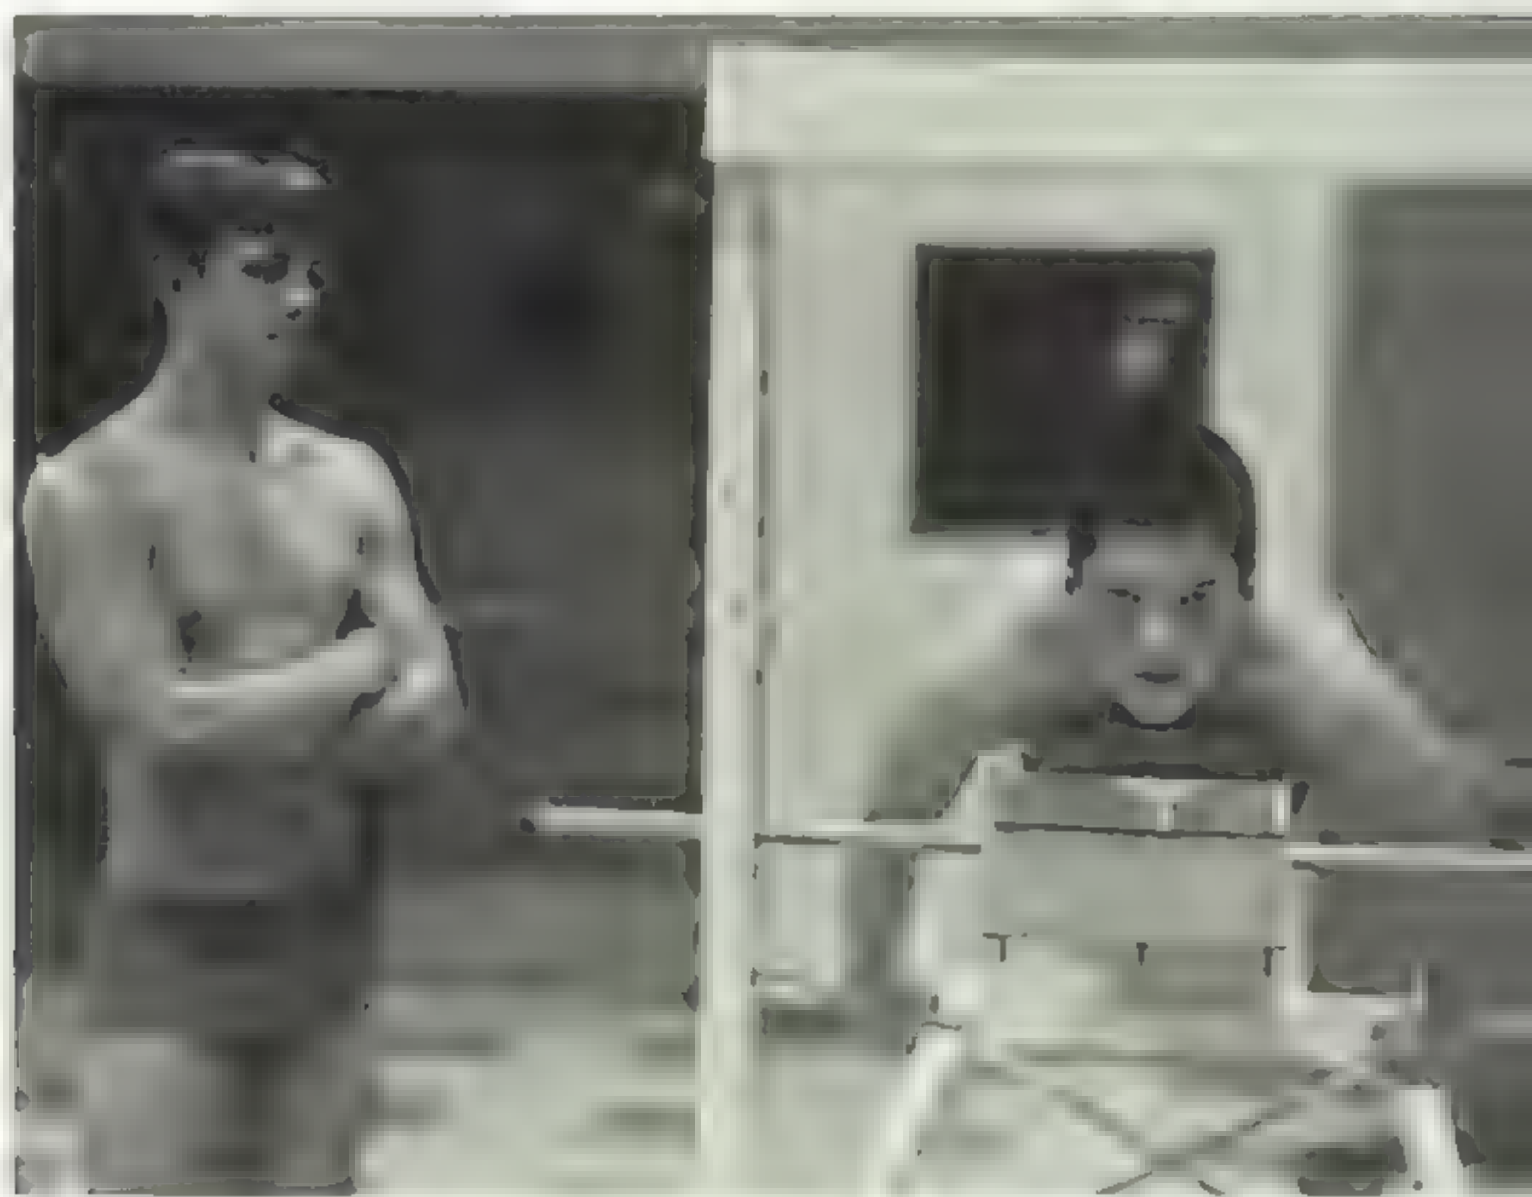

Before the eating lesson, language club members worked up an appetite, playing volleyball.

WEST BOASTS ALL-AMERICAN SWIMMER

Jim Campbell watches on as Perry Puck works out on the sled

The WHS tankers came on strong this season to show they were no easy push over. Losing only five dual meets, the senior dominated line up instilled a spirit few teams could match as they sent 13 qualifiers to state

Ralph Mundt set a new school record in the 100 yard butterfly and Blaine Koch set a record in the 100 yard freestyle. Steve Shippey out shined them all as he set a new state record in the 50 yard freestyle and automatically became a member of the All-American swimming team

To demonstrate their ability, first-year slaves threw a dance line for the benefit of the other students.

As part of their duties, the slaves served the barbers' dinner to special guests.

Latin Club Serves Traditional Roman Banquet

Two slaves discover that running in the "Olympic Race" proves to be very tiring

In a scene from the play, Pat Klein helps the lady to her chair

Ancient Roman attire and a traditional Roman meal were on the docket for the annual Latin Club Roman Banquet. The gods reigned over the court of slaves who served the guests and their masters at the Roman Banquet in the old Roman tradition. Fried chicken and Roman bread were passed in large baskets, and trays of fruit and raw vegetables completed the meal. As the slaves brought around the finger bowl, the entertainment began: Olympic races, a drama of an ancient court, and a grape race where the slaves were commanded to push the grapes with their noses or be cast into the dungeons.

An award ceremony capped the evening with prizes being given to the best actors, the best slave, and the best dressed god.

To end their number, Aquesta girls form a circle with interlocking arms.

With deliberate hand over hand movements, Aquesta members demonstrate their precision in performing stunts.

Whether it be painstaking work on the exact position for a ballet leg or four laps of the butterfly, the basic ingredients needed for success in each case are the same. Both the members of WHS girls' swim team and members of Aquesta, WHS synchronized swimming club, demonstrate their determination, competitiveness, and desire in their respective fields.

The WHS girls' swim team, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Johnson, practiced in the mornings before school. They participated in several dual meets held throughout the spring which were concluded with district competition.

Aquesta practiced every Thursday night throughout the year. Their hard work and devotion was culminated in the annual synchronized swim show. Held the last weekend in April, this year's theme was "A Walk on Broadway". Aquesta officers for 1969-1970 were Debby Dyer, President; Julie McGrath, vice-president; Lynn Ruefer, treasurer; and Rhonda Hutchinson, secretary.

'Expression' Is the Word for Public Speaking

Speaking? No. Relating? No. Gesturing? No. Explaining? No. Dramatizing? No. Interpreting? No. Articulating? No. Expressing? Hmmm Expressing? YES!

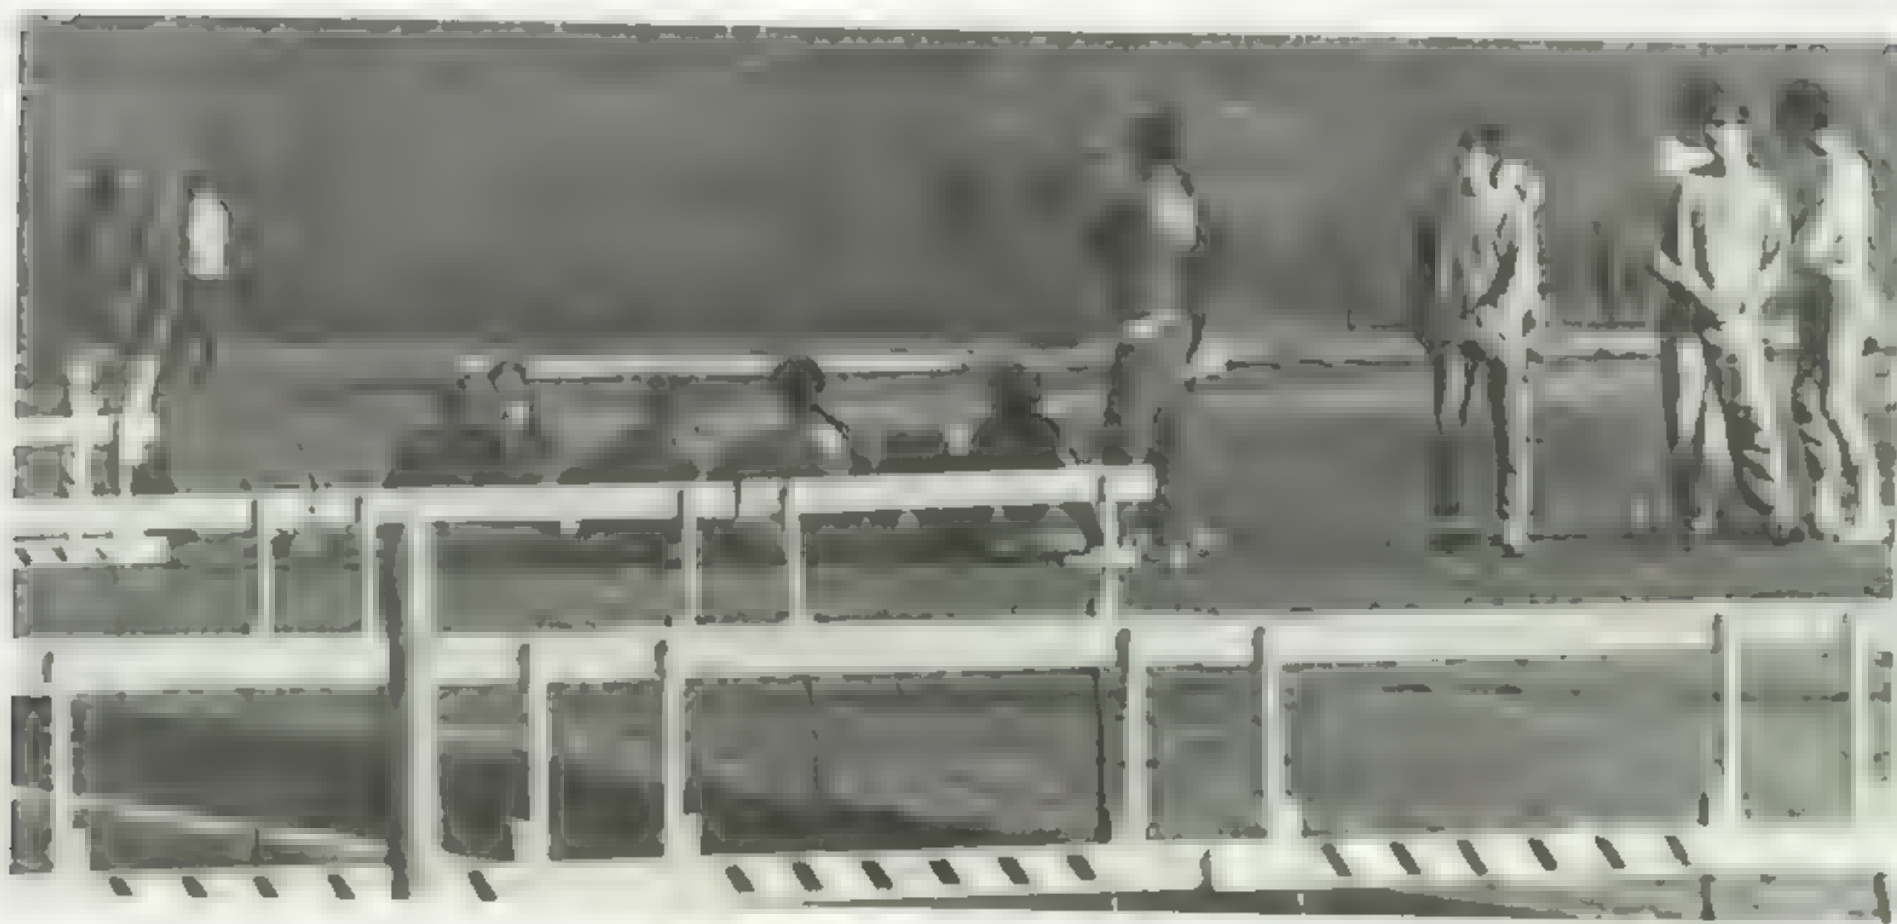

Expressing. That's it. The purpose of every public speaker is expression. Expressing their ideas with their voice and their body. Oh, they are speaking, relating, articulating, dramatizing, interpreting, gesturing, and explaining in the process of expressing an idea, but EXPRESSION is the word for public speaking.

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a letter or a note, written on a piece of paper. The text is written in dark ink and is somewhat faded and blurry. The handwriting is slanted and appears to be from the 19th or early 20th century. The text is written in a cursive style, with many loops and flourishes. The ink is dark, but the paper is aged and yellowed, making the text difficult to read. The text is written in a single column, and the lines are somewhat irregular. The overall appearance is that of a handwritten document, possibly a letter or a note, written on a piece of paper. The text is written in a cursive style, with many loops and flourishes. PEOPLE—that's us!

People—that's us! Oh, some call us kids, or teens, or even children! And a lot of big, big people get uptight about us and it doesn't always take too much to get those same big, big people to turn us off. But, if they'd just take a real look at us, like we do at ourselves, they just might find a different picture

Those folks would see that we have feelings, too. The thrill of a successful class exam, the awful feeling of loneliness, the hope for a better tomorrow, the anticipation of love, the sheer folly of fun, the intensity of challenge

And we think we're fairly mature today. We do recognize we have some real odd balls in the crowd, just like in the adult world. Maybe we're not quite as practical as the bigger people, but sometimes we think we're a bit more honest about life—and, maybe, that's why we're such pests for some folks. We're probably just too doggone honest to see that a guy has to be practical!

Oh well, high school is over today for about one-third of us and we'll go on into the world—to work, to college to war! And we sorta' think that our generation will stick to our ideals and fight for them just a little bit more than that other generation.

People—that's us!

We close the SHAHEEN memory chest on the 1969-70 school year. It marks the end of one decade, but it also marks the beginning of another, in which we may continue to work and play and love and LIVE!

The book is finished, and I want to express my sincere appreciation to my staff:

Donna Brus	Associate Editor
Rod White	Sports Editor
Art Kenyon	Photographer
Carol Drummond	Senior Editor
Peg Dipple and Barb Shellabarger	Index Editors

and to all the junior reporters and most especially to Mr. Vahl for all his help

Steve,
She knows you
for about seven weeks.
In that time, she came to know that you're a wonderful guy. Just thank you for making my junior year the best yet.
Have a beautiful future,
Deb

Steve
Thanks for all the help
You can make a Person feel good. You really helped when it counted.
Bruce
Peace
